

What is a Social Network?
"Social Network"

Social Network is a group of people who are connected to each other in some way. This can be through a common interest, a shared experience, or a mutual connection. Social networks can be online or offline, and they can be as small as a group of friends or as large as a community of millions of people. Social networks are important because they provide a way for people to share information, support, and resources. They can also be used to spread rumors, misinformation, and hate speech. Social networks are a double-edged sword, and it is important to use them responsibly.

Social Media is a type of social network that is used to share information, ideas, and experiences. Social media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram allow users to connect with each other and share content. Social media has become a major part of our lives, and it has changed the way we communicate and interact with each other. Social media can be used for good, such as raising awareness for social issues and connecting with friends and family. However, it can also be used for bad, such as spreading rumors and cyberbullying. Social media is a powerful tool, and it is important to use it wisely.
